The CHIEF JUDGE :- I doubt if the Government will wish to tie its hands either as to proportion of appointments or as to qualifying period of practice. I would be quite willing to accept a rule that one in every three appointments of Subordinate Judges be given to a member of the Bar: I think it would be a good rule enough provided the other two appointments are reserved for Munsiffs, and that officers of other Departments are entirely excluded from the selection. At present two of our Subordinate Judges were appointed direct from the Bar, and this has caused considerable and very natural discontent among the Munsiffs, seeing that the number of higher posts to which they can aspire aspire is so few. It is not very satisfactory to deal piecemeal with these resolutions in separate files: It would be easier to deal with ~~them~~ there as parts of a scheme; but I fear some of them were not well thought out and the Government is likely on that account to attach little importance to them. As to qualifying period of practice I would have none, but a young practitioner unless a very shining light should not be put in as Subordinate Judge over the heads of Munsiffs of long standing especially when the Munsiffs are appointed from the Bar. If a qualifying period is to be prescribed, I think ten years is not too short but is perhaps too long: I think it might be reduced to five or six.

Mr. Justice K.S. CHANDRASEKHARA AIYAR :- I fully agree. 22/1/15

Mr. Justice T. PARAMASIVA IYER :- I would prefer to create an extra appointment on Rs. 400/- in the First Grade of Munsiffs for direct appointment from the Bar the nominee being put on probation for 2 years at the end of which it would be optional with Government to keep him or dispense with his services, with similar option to remain or go to the Advocate. 22/1/15
